Facilitated by Cindy Wood, MAI, NIC
and Manda Duda, BA, BEI II

DESCRIPTION

This three-week series will be a facilitated discussion about various ethical scenarios, the decisions we make based on the RID CPC, and the impact those decisions have on stakeholders. Each week participants will be presented with a scenario prior to the scheduled event time, they will prepare their own response to the situation, citing specific RID CPC Tenets, and engage in discussion with other professionals. The facilitator will guide the group through an in depth analysis of the various decisions, and discuss the impact those decisions could have on the stakeholders: deaf consumer, hearing consumer, interpreting profession.

OBJECTIVES

Participants will:

- Employ critical thinking skills to parse out the ethical dilemmas in each scenario.
- Describe what actions they would take to resolve an ethical dilemma.
- Refer to specific RID CPC Tenets to support their decisions.
- Reflect on their own decisions and respond to feedback from colleagues.
- Formulate three new strategies for identifying and resolving ethical dilemmas.

POLICIES

ABOUT THE FACILITATOR

CINDY WOOD, MAI, NIC

Cindy is a Michigan native but has lived in several other states over the past 30 years. She graduated from Adrian College with a degree in Business Marketing, worked in retail and property management for many years before returning to school.

She attended University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee for her ITP then received her Masters of Interpretation from Gallaudet University in 2006. She became nationally certified in 2006.

In 2009, she moved to Virginia Beach, worked as a freelance interpreter, and taught Foundations of Interpreting for six years at Tidewater Community College before moving back to her home state of Michigan in 2015. From 2016-2020 she served as the MIRID Treasurer, and in 2020 launched her own Professional Development website, CWoodPD.com.

Now she works mostly in medical, post-secondary, and VRS settings. When she is not interpreting she can be found adventuring with her 10-year-old son, Trevor, and partner Matt. They enjoy camping, hiking, playing Taco vs Burrito, and discovering new breweries across the state.

ABOUT THE FACILITATOR

MANDA DUDA, BA, BEI II

Manda is originally from Northwest Ohio (don't hold that against her) and moved to Michigan in 2013 to attend Madonna University. She graduated from Madonna with a bachelor's in Sign Language Studies with a focus on interpreting in 2016. Manda took her BEI performance test prior to graduation and once she was certified, she began working full time as a freelance interpreter.

In 2019 she received notice that she passed the NIC performance test and began working as a freelance medical interpreter. She also passed the BEI II in 2020 and is planning to take the BEI III in the future.

Outside of interpreting Manda is an avid crocheter, fitness/health buff, leads a Bible study and she enjoys hiking and hanging out along the shores of Sleeping Bear Dunes with her husband, dog, and bearded dragon (the cat stays home!).
